Malaysia
Truly Asia

Life in Malaysia
Malaysia is one of the most ethnically and religiously diverse nations in the world today, with all of the world's major religions, as well as major Asian ethnic groups represented.

Time Zone
Malaysia's standard time is +8 hours ahead of Universal Coordinated Time or UTC (Greenwich Mean Time-GMT).

The Currency
The unit of currency is Ringgit Malaysia (nearly always abbreviated to RM). There are notes of RM1, 5, 10, 50, 100 and coins of 5, 10, 20, 50 cents. Malaysians sometimes refer to the RM as a dollar. Make sure you know which kind of dollar is being discussed.

About Malaysia

Malaysia is located in Southeast Asia, separated into West Malaysia (Peninsular) and East Malaysia. West Malaysia states are Perlis, Penang, Kelantan, Terengganu, Perak, Kedah, Pahang, Selangor, Kuala Lumpur, Melaka, Negeri Sembilan, and Johor, whereas East Malaysia states are Sabah and Sarawak.

In this relatively tiny area, peace thrives as the various groups co-exist in harmony and tolerance; complementing one another to enrich the shared character, cultural mosaic and vision of the nation.

Malaysia's population mainly consists of Malays, Chinese, and Indians. However, Sarawak and Sabah has its own ethnic groups which include Iban, Bidayuh, Kenyah, Kayan and others.

Official religion of Malaysia is Islam. Islam is observed by around 60% of Malaysians.

There are also numerous Buddhist and Hindu temples and Christian churches. Freedom of religion is constitutionally guaranteed for non-Muslims. In fact, the major religious and/or traditional festivals are gazette public holidays like Aidil-Fitri and Aifil-Adha, Deepavali, Thaipusam, Wesak, Chinese Lunar New Year and Christmas.

The official language of the country is Bahasa Malaysia (which means the Malay language) and English; however in some schools Chinese and Tamil are also taught.

English language and Bahasa Malaysia is commonly used in major towns and in smaller towns only Bahasa Malaysia is common. Mandarin and Tamil are taught in vernacular schools.

You would not find anything surprising about Malaysia laws. Capital punishment is in force here. Muslims in Malaysia have to adhere to the Syariah law.

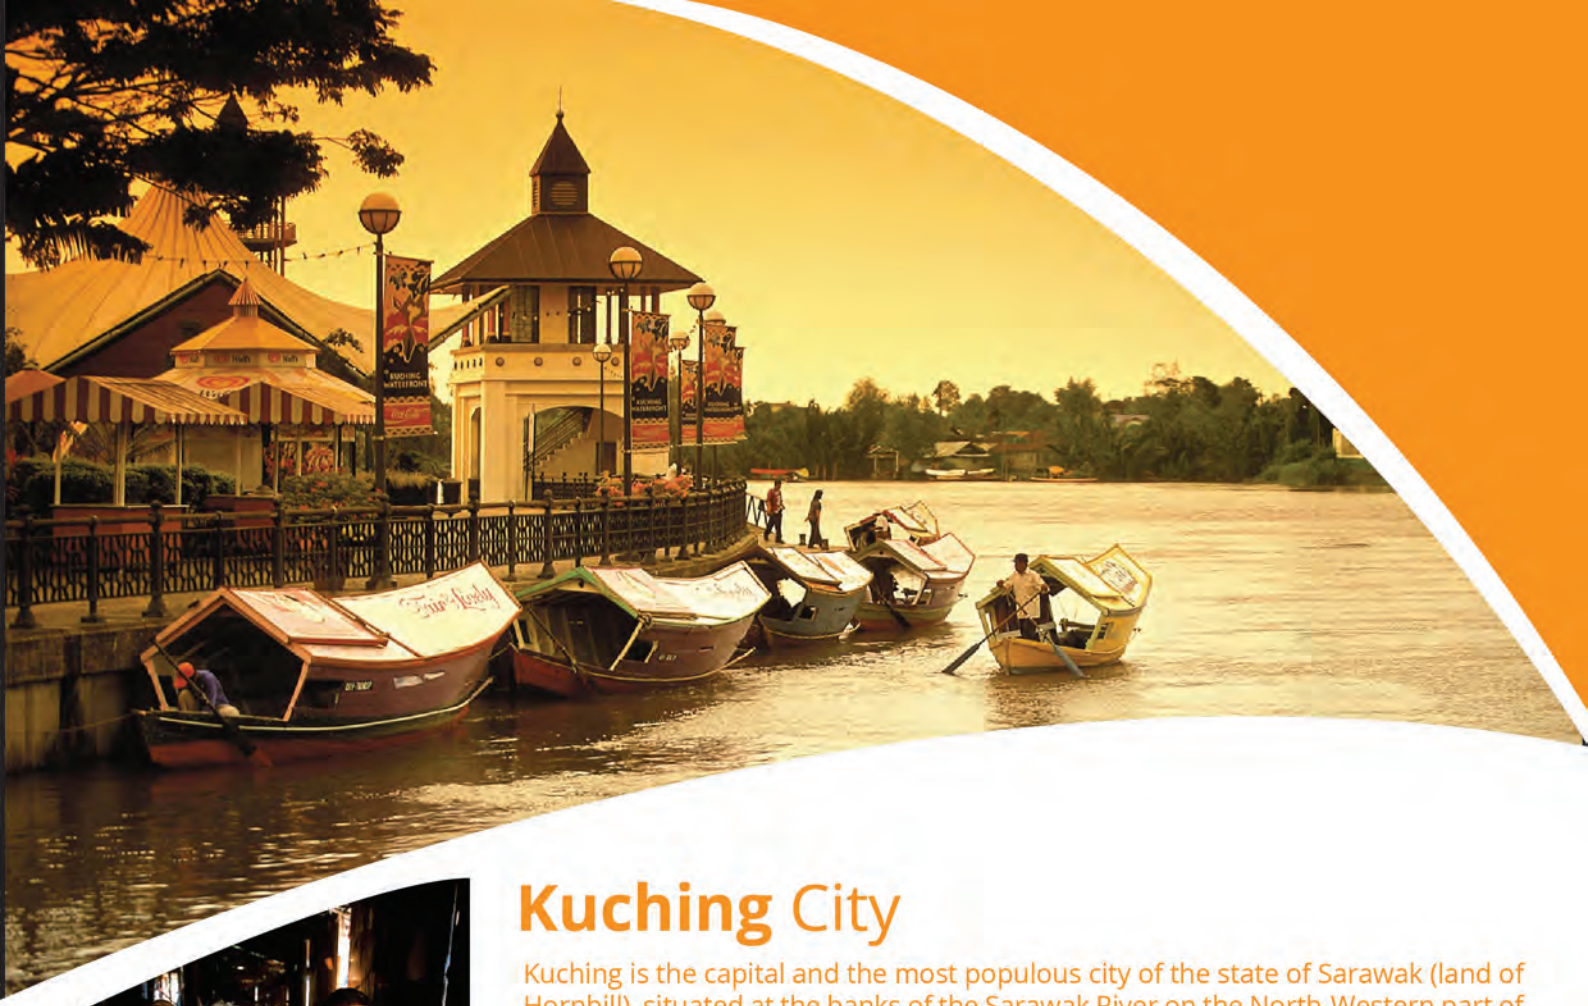

This Islamic law forbids a Muslim man and a Muslim woman to be alone together in a private place. This is called 'khalwat' (close proximity) and carries a jail sentence.

Malaysia is a federal constitutional elective monarchy. The system of government is closely modelled on that of the Westminster parlimentary system, a legacy of British colonial rule."

Student Testimonials

Elizabeth Tan (Singaporean student)

I am proud to say that I am one of FAME International College's student. I came to know this college as it is well recognised for their accounting course which I am currently enrolled into.

The lecturers are all friendly and caring. They make sure every class and lesson is educational and entertaining. The lecturers treat students like friends which makes them special. Due to the small number of students in each group, the lecturers can really focus on each student.

As this is an international college, I also have the chance to meet other international students and learn about their culture. I really look forward to the time I will spend in FAME International College.

Mega Agatha (Indonesian student)

My name is Mega Agatha and I would like to say FAME International College get me motivated and inspired. What is great is that I encounter students from different cultures. There are people from many different countries and I do not think I will find an area as international as this.

Sandra Chai (Papua New Guinea student)

I like the friendly atmosphere here and the fact that the lecturers and staff are close to the students. Lecturers take the time to explain subject areas that pose problems. They are very kind, patient and supportive toward students who need help.

The lecturers are also very motivational. This encourages me to be enthusiastic to learn and to attend each class. This has helped me to develop a positive attitude towards my studies.

Sally Do Trang (Vietnamese student, Intake April 2015)

Even though FAME International College in Kuching, Sarawak is thousands of miles away from my home country, it is the college I choose. This is not only because I want to increase my knowledge about business and especially entrepreneurship, but I am able to meet and make more friends who come from different backgrounds and cultures.

Although the campus is not big, but the friendliness of the staff and other students and the interesting social activities are definitely more than expected.

Though I am alone in Kuching without my family members, I feel what I have achieved so far is really worth it. With tasty cuisines, a peaceful atmosphere and hospitable people, I will definitely miss all these after I complete my studies in FAME International College.
